Source: Mary T. Gibbens, R.R. # 2 Box 301, Center Point, Indiana, February 1990

Jacob Gibbons, eldest son of James Gibbons, sold his property in Hampshire County, Va. in 1791. The paper states that James was deceased, & Mary had intermarried with Durrett Covy. James had land surveyed in 1730 in Hampshire County, Va., (Now West Virginia), James died before Lord Fairfax granted him a deed for the property.

Mary T. Gibbens continues to say..... The first we know of Jacob Gibbens is from the book "History of the Valley of Virginia" by Samuel Kerchival, published in 1833, fifth edition. Mr. Kerchival interviewed our ancestor and in a footnote on page 72 stated that "Jacob Gibbens " " was born September the 10th, 1745". Since the author saw him he has departed this life," an honest and good man". On this same page, was the following story told by Mr. Kerchival by Jacob Gibbens concerning his sister, Sarah:

.....Indians were encountered pretty low down the North Branch of the Capon River, by Capt. Joshua Lewis, at the head of the eighteen men; one Indian was killed when the others ran off. Previous to the defeat of this party they had committed considerable destruction of the property of the white settlers, and took a Mrs. Horner and a girl about thirteen years of age prisoners. Mrs. Horner was the mother of seven or eight children, she never returned to her family. The girl, whose name was Sarah Gibbens, the sister of the informant, was a prisoner about eight years or nine before she returned home.

At the noon hour a bountiful dinner was served & enjoyed by every one present.

War & Heartbreak In The North River & Ca capon Valleys

Sagas of Pioneer Families of the North River Settlement History and Tragedy of the Gibbons Family. (pages 2,3,18,19,20,21 & 22) ALLOT OF HISTORY REPORTED!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

High light foot notes of the following pages.....Page 18 James Gibbons settled several miles below Jonathon Pugh, just beyond North River Mills. Page 20. Gibbons family history. Research on the roots of the Gibbons family reveals much lost and forgotten history of the area. The first settlers by this name was James Gibbons, (ca. 1720-1760) He and his wife Mary, settled on Fairfax lands along North river, near the mouth of a stream later named Gibbons Run. Gibbons' Run, in Hampshire County was named after pioneer James Gibbons. A Fairfax survey, dated Dec. 9-1754, reveals that James Gibbons worked as a chairman for Surveyor John Mauzy. In addition to other families, Indians also assaulted and pillage James Gibbons family and property during the 1756 raid at North River Mills. His daughter, Sarah Gibbons was taken prisoner and held for eight or nine years before being released presumably, Sarah was returned to Old Frederick County in 1764-1765, age 21 or 22. Sarah Gibbons, was 13 years old at the time of capture. What happened to James Gibbons during the Indian attack is not known. Possibly he was killed or died shortly there after of a disease, or natural cause. His name did not appear in subsequent records. James Gibbons did not live to receive an official Fairfax grant for the 131 acre farm, which he lived. Mary Gibbons, widow of James, remarried to Durrett Covey, prior to 1771. Covey was one of the Soldiers in Captain Joshua Lewis' militia who came to the aid of the Gibbons family during the Indian attack in the spring of 1756. Possibly Covey was involved in securing Sarah Gibbons' release by the Indians. Gibbons' 131 acre farm, along the North River, was inherited by Jacob Gibbons' Sr., the eldest son and "heir-at-law" of James Gibbons. Jacob Gibbons' Sr. was born sometime during the French and Indian War, his family resettled in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia where he died ca. 1831

Notes for ALFRED PIERCE GIBBONS:

There is an article, that I found in the Effingham Daily News, April 8-1982, page 10 written by Peggy Pulliam Titled: Tracing land deeds through several counties. "My readers respond" PART 1:

As you read this article, there are some interesting NOT PROVEN facts, that have been told by several generations in these families. The grave of Mary Ann Pierce who married Jacob Gibbons, Jr. , buried at Faunce cemetery, the article reads that the informant states that she, Mary Ann Pierce, was a sister to our fourteenth president, Franklin Pierce, and that Jacob Gibbons was an half brother to Newton Gibbons, this last statement is not true, Newton was Jacob's son. Mary Ann became ill while visiting in the Effingham area, and she died.
